SPONSORSHIP PROPOSAL

STRATEGIC CONCEPT NOTE

2028(THIRD EDITION)

Executive summary

The Kenya Fashion & Creative Arts Awards (KFCAA), formerly Coast Fashion & Modelling Awards (CFMA), is evolving from a successful Coast-based recognition event into an inclusive national platform supporting fashion, modelling and the wider creative arts. Its purpose is to recognize excellence while connecting talent with mentorship, exposure, industry relationships and pathways towards sustainable livelihoods.

The second edition of the Coast Fashion & Modelling Awards was held on 15 August 2026 at CityBlue Creekside Hotel, Mombasa. The edition welcomed over 600 attendees, featured nine fashion designers and brought together youth from all six coastal counties: Mombasa, Kwale, Kilifi, Taita Taveta, Lamu and Tana River. Its delivery was supported by a diverse network of industry and brand partners, providing a compelling foundation for KFCAA's third edition and national expansion in 2028.

The KFCAA third edition in 2028 features an eight-region programme from April to November, offering locally relevant platforms for recognition, creative showcases, professional connections and brand engagement. Sponsorship is available for an individual regional enentdd event, a selection of regions or the full eight-region national programme.

The Gold, Silver and Bronze packages offer defined visibility, activation and impact opportunities at each scope.

Partnership with KFCAA creates value beyond event-day publicity. Sponsorship contributes to event delivery, emerging-talent participation, creative entrepreneurship, accessibility, local supplier opportunities and measurable programme outcomes, while providing partners with tangible brand engagement and reporting.

Institutional background and demonstrated capacity

Established to celebrate creative achievement and build professional visibility for the Coast's fashion and modelling community, CFMA has demonstrated sustained growth. The 2025 inaugural edition attracted over 350 participants and recognized 30 award winners, according to its previous concept documentation. The second edition welcomed over 600 attendees and featured nine fashion designers while recognizing 33 award winners.

These milestones provide a credible foundation for KFCAA's third edition in 2028, expanding the platform to eight regional host events. Event results are based on organizer records and can be substantiated through relevant attendance and media documentation.

Vision, Mission and Strategic Objectives

Vision

To become Kenya's leading platform for celebrating and empowering fashion, modelling and creative arts talent while positioning Kenya as a hub of creativity, cultural expression and artistic excellence.

Mission

To identify, recognize, nurture and promote creative talent through awards, industry partnerships, mentorship, networking and opportunities that support professional growth and sustainable careers in the creative economy.

Strategic Objectives

- Recognize exceptional achievement in fashion, modelling and creative arts.
- Advance youth empowerment through exposure, mentorship and practical career development.
- Celebrate the cultures, craftsmanship and artistic diversity of Kenya.
- Promote entrepreneurship, innovation and sustainable creative livelihoods.
- Connect creators to brands, investors, employers, mentors, media and institutions.
- Expand access beyond major urban centres through regional events and outreach.

Why a national programme is needed

Creative talent is distributed across Kenya, but access to recognition, technical guidance, paying markets, professional networks and exposure remains uneven. A national, regionally delivered programme can reduce distance barriers and allow emerging creatives to participate close to home. For sponsors, this also creates multiple points for meaningful engagement with communities rather than a single centralised event.

The proposed initiative supports a connected creative value chain: designers, models, stylists, fashion enthusiasts, photographers, makeup artists, content creators, performers, event professionals, venues, suppliers and small businesses. It will also promote transparent awards processes, inclusion and responsible representation of Kenyan cultural identities.

Flexible alternatives and additional partnership formats

Multi-region bundle

Organizations seeking a presence in two to seven host regions can select Gold, Silver or Bronze sponsorship in each market. A combined partnership quotation reflects the selected regions, requested activations and operational requirements.

Mixed-tier footprint

A mixed-tier partnership enables a brand to take Gold in a priority region, Silver in another and Bronze in further selected counties. Each regional deliverable is aligned with the chosen level and the overall partnership is consolidated into one agreement.

In-kind / technical partner

Partners may contribute venue services, broadcast capacity, transport, accommodation, professional training, technology, production, connectivity or equipment. The value and associated rights of in-kind contributions are documented in the partnership agreement.

Programme-specific support

Programme-specific partnerships support initiatives such as mentorship, accessibility, youth participation, regional exhibitions and digital storytelling, alongside or independently of the tiered packages.

Exclusivity

Where sector or category exclusivity is required, the relevant rights, geographical coverage, term and any exceptions are expressly defined in a separately agreed provision.

Funding use and responsible implementation

Sponsorship funds are applied to agreed programme activities, including regional event delivery, venue and technical production, talent mobilization, awards administration, creative showcases, participant accessibility, mentorship, digital promotion, documentation, safety and impact reporting. Each partner receives a confirmed budget allocation and deliverables schedule as part of the sponsorship agreement.

KFCAA maintains documented authorization, procurement, expenditure, contract management and budget reconciliation processes. Payment instructions and beneficiary details are supplied through the official signed partnership agreement to safeguard transactions and promote financial accountability.

Delivery, impact measurement and reporting

A designated KFCAA partnership representative coordinates branding approvals, regional activation arrangements, deliverable sign-off and post-event reporting. Performance reports cover attendance, county representation, creative participation, sponsor activations, available digital reach data, verified media mentions and relevant participant feedback.

National sponsors receive a consolidated report supported by county-level event summaries. Regional sponsors receive reporting specific to their selected event. Participant information is gathered and used with appropriate consent and data protection safeguards.

Governance, awards independence and risk management

- KFCAA administers nominations through published eligibility requirements, award categories and judging criteria.
- Conflicts of interest involving judges, organizers or commercial supporters are disclosed and managed.
- Sponsor benefits remain separate from award scoring, nomination outcomes and winner selection.

- Regional event arrangements incorporate venue safety, crowd management and applicable permits or insurance.
- Participant photography and sponsored content usage are managed through appropriate permissions and data safeguards.
- Contractual terms address event changes, postponements, cancellations and the treatment of associated contributions.
- Any material programme adjustments are communicated through the agreed sponsor liaison process.

Partnership confirmation and activation

- Partnerships are confirmed through a selection of regional, multi-region or all-eight-region sponsorship scope.
- · Gold, Silver and Bronze packages, together with in-kind and programme-specific options, provide flexibility for individual organizational priorities.
- · A tailored sponsorship agreement sets out the selected regions, investment, approved benefits and delivery responsibilities.
- · Both parties confirm brand rights, activation logistics, payment milestones and reporting requirements in writing.
- · The agreed implementation schedule governs campaign communications, venue preparations and sponsor participation.
- · KFCAA documents delivery against its commitments and provides the agreed completion and impact reports.

Invitation to partner

Kenya's creative economy is powered by the ambition and imagination of people whose work deserves recognition and opportunity. Building on the successful 2026 second edition, KFCAA's 2028 third edition brings that recognition to eight regional host counties through a connected national programme. The initiative offers an established platform through which partners can help expand visibility, empower creative communities and support sustainable industry relationships.

KFCAA warmly invites your organization to partner in the 2028 third edition through a Gold, Silver or Bronze package in one region, a tailored multi-region arrangement or an eight-region national sponsorship. Your contribution will be recognized through defined partnership benefits and meaningful involvement in a programme dedicated to celebrating creativity, empowering talent and inspiring excellence—from Kenya to the world.
